9 - What aspects of the course or the instruction would you keep?

Anne-Caroline Sieffert

- I love the fact that we learn new vocabulary every unit.
- The professor teach us how to write a letter " the French way" when applying for a job. She also teach us that in French, sentences can be very long unlike English. I've learned that we must avoid "on" when writing in French.
- Probably all of them. Dr. Sieffert was pretty awesome.
- Good range of different topics to discuss.

10 - What changes would you suggest in the course or the instruction that would help you learn more effectively?

Anne-Caroline Sieffert

- None.
- I would suggest to the professor to hear the petition of the students to go over homework and quizzes. I would learn more effectively if the professor would review the materials with us before an exam...
- Perhaps more small assignments.
- More work with grammar of different styles.

11 - What major conclusions did you draw from the course or instruction?

Anne-Caroline Sieffert

- I love my major and wish to continue.
- The instructor has the ability to teach, but maybe she assume that students have enough knowledge therefore she does not teach certain things that she should teach us such as going over the work before an exam.
- I am really bad at grammar.
- Different subjects require different jargon and style.

12 - Is there anything else you would like to tell us about the course or instruction?

Anne-Caroline Sieffert

- It's very well put together.
- Yes, this professor understands that students do not need 50 books to learn grammar, unlike professor Wirz. But it is not necessary to grade students according to how well they draw cartoons. This is not an art class. If professor Anne-Caroline do review before every exam and go over the work she could become a very important tool for students at MSU. she has the knowledge and ability. Because we were complaining of the fact that we did not have a review she did a quick 3 minutes review right before the midterm. Also, when we have to read documents she sends them out the last minute, students need time to read. One great thing about the professor is that she gives us good tips about the language. I would take her again as a professor, but I would also have to remind her that students need to review.
- Great course.
